Our Twelfth Annual Symposium will take place April 4 & 5, 2008

This symposium will explore current educational policy in the United States in light of the No Child Left Behind Act (NCLB). Rather than focus on one single aspect of the NCLB Act, the symposium will bring a broad spectrum of views on education to the discussion. The symposium will include four separate panels—the No Child Left Behind Act, Multicultural Education, Alternative Education, and Teacher Recruitment Programs for Hard to Staff Schools. Panelists will include top leaders in education, practitioners, and legal scholars. More articles from this symposium will appear in Volume 12, forthcoming in 2008.
